Michael started his career at Southern Company in 2006 and has since held various leadership positions with increasing responsibility. He has experience in distribution engineering, construction, and maintenance. In his current role as the Northern Transmission Maintenance Area Manager, he oversees a team of over 170 employees responsible for maintaining transmission infrastructure in Atlanta and Rome.

Michael is also active in the community. He serves on the Advisory Board for Valuing Openness Inclusion Community & Education (VOICE) and coaches youth football and track. He is also a mentor for Neighborhoods Focused on African American Youth.
